

GARY DULABAUM: TEACHING THROUGH THE MAGIC OF SONG

Gary Dulabaum is a nationally touring educator, motivational speaker, author, songwriter, musician, poet, college guest lecturer and a recording artist of children's music. Since 1992 he has traveled the United States and beyond sharing his hands-on participatory concerts and workshops for young children and teachers that enhance pre-literacy skills, that demonstrate the importance of rhythm in language development skills, that offer ideas and activities that help children make the link from oral to printed words, and that feature songs and activities for developing social skills and pro-social behavior.

Gary is also a graduate of the University of Vermont Pre-k/3 Program. He has worked as a home and center-based teacher as well as education and social services coordinator for the Head Start program and has taught at several private preschool programs. His love and concern for the well-being of children led him to the position of Community Child Protection consultant for the Vermont Agency of Human Services working with the state's child protection teams.

Gary has been called a —teachers' teacher and an innovative educator who believes in teaching through the magic of song, poetry, rhyme, movement and rhythm. Knowing that music is a universal language and most if not all children love music, Gary found early on the importance of using music in the preschool classroom setting. Music is a free way to express feelings, a means of emotional expression, a co-ordination of the mind, body and imagination, the interaction of cognitive and affective growth, an outlet for creativity and self-expression, and music is FUN!!

Gary has been a member of VAEYC, NAEYC, and the International Literacy Association and has presented, performed and keynoted at their local, state, regional and national conferences and conventions.

Dulabaum is also a registered certified instructor for the Vermont Northern Lights Career Development Center in the following areas: Teaching and Learning (Early Childhood), Families and Communities (Early Childhood), Child Development (Early Childhood).

Gary has released 6 recordings of music for kiddos and is also the author of one book, My Teacher Rides a Harley (Maupin House Press). The book is part memoir and part instructional resource and has been featured on Morning Edition on National Public radio. The book outlines the tools and processes teachers need to expose their students to the writing to the writing process and encourage their personal creativity. The book comes with a CD that has 16 sing-along songs with classroom activities for each song.

TEACHER IN-SERVICE TRAININGS/CONFERENCE WORKSHOPS

TEACHING THROUGH THE MAGIC OF SONG AND PLAY

The natural work of all children is to play, to pretend, to try on life through imagination. This activity, basic to human existence, is now appreciated as an essential component of the language arts (pre-literacy), an integral part of learning, touching every subject, every curriculum strand.

Music/song is also a component of pre-literacy and a universal language. Children everywhere bring music into their games, their interactions with other children and adults and employ it as an inner companion to their exploration of the world around them.

Music/song is also a free way to express feelings, a means of emotional expression, a coordination of the mind, body and imagination, a way to express and explore responses to inner feelings and reactions to stimulations outside the child's environment, an additive to social growth, the interaction of cognitive and affective growth and children love music!

Through nursery rhymes, chants, play games and songs they make the link from oral to written language, they make sense of the world around them, and many preschoolers, whether at rest or play, self-confidently accompany their activities with a steady stream of personal rhythms, tunes and words. In this hands-on, participatory session we'll sing, express, create, move, share and PLAY! Audio taping is encouraged.

SONGS AND MUSICAL ACTIVITIES THAT ENHANCE SOCIAL EMOTIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Children love music and music is an incredible teaching tool for enhancing social emotional development in young children. Through music/musical activities you can learn to manage daily transitions (using clean-up songs for example), teach simple routines/rules (the music has started I need to clean-up now), and help children participate in the group life of the class (being involved in a performance or simply being involved in a musical experience). Gary will also demonstrate musical movement ideas great for having children interact with each other and for developing self-confidence. Gary's workshop also explores how children can find expression for their thoughts, values, ideas and feelings through poetry, movement, humor, storytelling, drama and songs. Using music/song as a daily teaching tool helps children connect with their own personal creativity as well.

POETRY & SONG WRITING 101 FOR THE PRESCHOOL

Explore how easy it is to make up/write songs and poems for and with the pre-school set. You will learn how to turn areas of your curriculum into useful songs and poems using easy, step-by-step, song and poetry writing processes for writing songs and poems on any topic, theme or from favorite books. These same methods can be used with children and Gary will demonstrate how to write songs and poems with young children. Samples of student and teacher songwriting are shared during this session. Gary will also demonstrate how poems and books can be made into songs. In this session we will be writing we will be writing songs and poems and will be sharing them. Adding movement and drama to songs and poems will also be covered as well as pre-school classroom applications on using the songs and poems with young children. No previous musical experience is needed. Just come prepared to sing, move, create and have fun!

SPECIAL PRESENTATIONS

KEYNOTE ADDRESS FOR EARLY CHILDHOOD CONFERENCES AND TRAININGS: I CAME TO TEACH AND STAYED TO LEARN: FINDING, KEEPING & NURTURING THE PASSION

When Gary First started working with young children he was asked, "Why do you want to work with young children?" Gary replied with this little poem "It's a love, it's a passion, It's an overall satisfaction that I can make a difference in a young child's life."

These are not the easiest times for anyone. With recession-like conditions still hanging around, jobs being cut, programs sliced and diced, and working conditions everywhere more difficult and challenging, the time is right to explore the joy in working with young children. Using song, performance poetry, stories, movement, humor and inspirational quotes, Gary's participatory keynote will help you find, keep and nurture the passion needed for working with young children. After all you (we) can make a difference in a young child's life through your work.

(Gary also offers special half and full-day sessions that combine all of his workshops and keynotes. For more information, please contact us at garydamberc@att.net or call/text us at 802.598.3588.

WHAT OTHERS HAVE TO SAY ABOUT GARY DULABAUM

"Dear Gary, we are so pleased that you shared your high energy, humor and wonderful inventory of knowledge about learning with us at the Region VIII Head Start Conference in Cheyenne, Wyoming. Your workshop and session topics on literacy were very popular and well received by the participants.

The conference participants rated your workshop, breakout session, and opener very highly and wrote on the evaluations such comments as: "Wonderful instructor", "Awesome!", "Lively, Fun, Informative!", "Excellent information. Very powerful!", "Fun and inspiring!", "Gary got everyone in a good frame of mind for a great conference!".

It has been great working with you and we truly hope our paths will cross again many times in the future. Thanks again for helping make the Region VIII Head Start Conference such a success."

Joan Bangen & Marianne North, Conference Co-Coordinator, Casper, Wyoming

"Thanks again, Gary! We really enjoyed your performance at the Waitsfield Elementary School! We continue to have dance parties to your music." Springhill School, Waitsfield, Vermont

"Gary, thanks so much for a very enjoyable and exciting workshop! Everyone loved your enthusiasm and wonderful ideas on how to enhance children's lives with music. Almost everyone said they were going to go back and do more songs and movement with their children! We all loved your recording!! Thanks so much!!" Cathy Rylant, Child Care Resource & Referral Center of Chittenden County, Williston, Vermont

"Gary can turn social interaction in to an art form! He was so accommodating both on and off the stage. Gary is a shining example of the kind of person I like to deal with on an on-going basis!"

Charlie Madden, Family Tree Childcare Center, Pepperell, Massachusetts

"Gary Dulabaum's music is genuine children's music. He sings about the things that children think and talk about. He is a singer who is child-centered. His music is toe-tapping, finger-snapping good! Be prepared to sing along, join in and have fun!" John Thomas Poeton, Educational Consultant, Barre, Vermont

"Enjoyed your workshop tremendously. Fun and music are so important in life and the classroom. Thanks a million," Linda Woods, Teacher, California Reading Conference, Sacramento, California

"Gary – just a personal note of thanks for sharing so much at the conference! My bucket is full, but I'd still like more! You gave me so many ideas, plus you gave me some enthusiasm to keep going. Interestingly enough though, I actually was boosted up by just a simple comment you made which really didn't have to do with anything! You said, "It's important to read the evaluations you get, but it's more important what you think about yourself." That comment really meant a lot to me – thanks. Thanks again – you are REAL and are doing an amazing job inspiring every life you touch."

Julie Clark, Pre-school Teacher, Provo, Utah

"Gary has a wonderful rapport with his audience – from three years old and up! A fun-filled, fantastic performance!" Pegge Strickler, Howe Public Library, Hanover, New Hampshire

"Hi, Gary, as always....you made me laugh!!! Your session was great and I look forward to working with you again for next year's conference. We plan on again having you do a breakout session and closing keynote if that is alright with you." Mary Beth Pistillo, Training Coordinator, Early Childhood Training Center, Omaha, Nebraska

"I thoroughly enjoyed your workshops and presentation this evening. Our staff has enjoyed listening to your recordings. I'm not sure if they are willing to share it with the children."

Kathleen L. Mays, Birth to Three Coordinator, Program Manager for L-UCDA/Head Start

"I also wanted to take the opportunity to let you know how impressed I was with your talent of speaking about the art of teaching. I feel you were a true blessing for me to be able to hear your story and theory of teaching. I was actually very excited to go back to work." Brandy Jennings, Williamsport Early Childhood Conference, Williamsport, Pennsylvania

"Thank you, Gary. It was of course a delight to see you as well, and to see a roomful of teachers bobbing to Dr. Dre! We had fabulous feedback from participants who enjoyed your presentation enormously. You were able to feed their minds and their spirits, a wonderful accomplishment. Thank you so much!" Andrea Viets, CCR Coordinator of Professional Development, Williston Children's Center, Williston, Vermont

"Gary is a unique and talented individual who will make this an exceptional learning experience for participants. Dulabaum will demonstrate how participants can integrate the arts into everyday pre-school programs. Gary recognizes that children come to daycare and pre-school from a variety of ethnic, linguistic and cultural backgrounds, which can present a challenge for their caregivers and teachers. The program teaches that children can find expression for their thoughts, values, ideas and feelings through the arts." Julie Agard, Assistant Professor of Elementary Education at the University of Nebraska at Kearney, Kearney, Nebraska

"Gary, I wanted to take this opportunity to thank you for presenting at the Caring for Children Conference at McCook. We had an overwhelmingly amount of positive feedback from your presentations. You definitely have a gift for engaging children and adults through music and entertainment – thus resulting in learning.

I will share some of the comments shared with me from the providers, 'lots of energy, fun, wonderful, great information, lots of laughs, excellent, kids would love the movement and songs, best ever, very good and can be applied to everyday easily, great ideas that I will use, very gifted, well presented, outstanding, fun songs, very entertaining, had a good time and got a little carried away, and very funny.'

On behalf of the conference committee, and myself, thank you very much for coming to McCook as our keynote speaker. We all enjoyed our conversations that we had with you throughout the day. Thanks again." Shelly Chromy, High Plains Early Childhood Professional Development Partnership Coordinator, North Platte, Nebraska
